71st Annual

San Antonio Society of Pathologists Seminar:
Learning to Love the Liver
January 10, 2015

CONCEPT

This seminar will cover the important clinical and histologic features and variations for both common and unusual diseases, underlining the most characteristic features. Case presentations will be used to highlight a practical approach to diagnosis. Issues regarding pathogenesis and treatment that are of importance to the Surgical Pathologist will be covered. The overall aim is to refresh the attendee's knowledge and to provide a conceptual framework that will allow the Pathologist to approach liver specimens with confidence.

OBJECTIVES

At the completion of the seminar, participants will be able to:

1. Understand the varying patterns of liver injury and their significance
2. Be able to synthesize histology, laboratory, and clinical data to form a refined diagnosis
3. Learn how to effectively communicate with hepatologists
4. Recognize neoplastic lesions and their mimics

AUDIENCE

The audience for the Saturday Seminar is expected to consist of Pathologists and trainees. Other hepatobiliary specialists are welcome.

LOCATION AND TIMES

The Seminar will begin Saturday morning, January 10th, 2015 at the Hilton San Antonio Airport Hotel, located at 611 N.W. Loop 410 in northwest San Antonio.

Registration and distribution of materials will begin at 7:30 a.m.; the program will begin at 8:00 a.m. Lunch will be provided, and the program will conclude at 5:00 p.m.

FORMAT

The Seminar, Learning to Love the Liver, will be presented by Dr. Emma Furth. Time will be available for questions from the audience at the end of each section. Cases will be made available to registrants prior to the seminar online via virtual microscopy; user name, password, and instructions will be distributed to registrants by email upon registration.

SAN ANTONIO

January in San Antonio is a particularly beautiful time of year with a moderate climate. San Antonio offers a rich variety of dining, entertainment, and shopping along the Riverwalk. The Mexican Market, El Mercado, bustles with the people, products, and outdoor restaurants which give San Antonio much of its unique style. The adobe dwellings of the historic La Villita serve as homes for artisans, galleries, and restaurants. The Rivercenter Mall is a visual delight, with whimsical-to-elegant shops overlooking the Riverwalk. Shuttle service to Northstar Mall, which is immediately across the highway, is offered by the Hilton Hotel.
